How Backpacks Help

- Kids in foster care are often taken from unsafe homes with little-to-no notice, and the gift of a backpack ensures that a child will at least have a toothbrush or PJ's to sleep in the night of their removal.
- Survivors of human trafficking are frequently extracted in a chaotic and dangerous escape. A filled backpack can provide hurting victims with necessities like deodorant, soap and clothes after their rescue.
- Children living in poverty rely on meals from school for most of their nutrition, but a simple backpack full of meals and snacks fends off weekend hunger pains.
- Refugees and displaced people are often forced to flee their homes with little more than the clothes on their backs, so a backpack of supplies serves as the perfect welcome to a new community.
